Peace:
a junior college for women . . .

In no way can these few words describe the 517 unique individuals who fill the buildings and grounds of Peace. There are 517 personalities and 517 faces.

Some of us are overflowing with the sheer joy of living and learning. Some of us are more quietly intent on fulfilling career goals. Some of our eyes shine with love; some with laughter. Some of us are filled with confusion as we explore all that life suddenly has to offer. Yet all of us are young women filled with strength and spirit. It is that spirit which draws us together, and it is that same spirit which makes us unique.

Peace gives us two years in which to express ourselves and leave our special imprints in time and space. Our voices will forever echo through the halls; our footsteps will resound on the stairs in Pressley. We share laughter, loud radios, letters from home, and late time together.

Yet we often wander in differing directions. Some of us find satisfaction in a tennis, basketball, or volleyball victory. Some of us complete a chemistry lab in no time at all while others of us must struggle to pass the course. For some of us Hillsboro Street is a way of life; for others it is a mystery. Yet in whatever way it is expressed, the excitement of life is found within us all.

We have the opportunity and the spirit to create our own lives. Careers, school, men, love, friends, work, and play — every door of this wide, wonderful world is open to us.

Every administrator, faculty member, and staff member deserves a special thank-you for the love and loyalty they have for the school and students. One of the five main purposes of Peace College is to provide "a faculty of outstanding academic ability." Every professor at Peace is certainly worthy of this description. The faculty make special efforts to give their students a quality education, answer any questions that a student may have, make the classroom experience an interesting one, and show an honest, sincere interest in each student as an individual. There are very few schools that provide such close interaction between teacher and student. We are equally as fortunate to have administrators who stay in contact with the students.

Despite their demanding, important schedules, every administrator at Peace College has time for a friendly smile and a warm hello in the hall. Peace College is certainly unique in the fact that even our college president takes the time to learn the students' names and faces.

The staff at Peace College are invaluable for the care and devotion they show in their work. Many of the staff members work long, hard hours in order to provide the appearance and atmosphere that make Peace special. For his/her individual and all-important contribution to the school and the students, each person who strives to make Peace a better school every day deserves this thank-you note.

MISS PEACE

Sarah Armstrong holds in her heart the very spirit of Peace College. Those of us who have shared the past two years on campus with Sarah are well aware of her sincerity and the warm glow of friendship that she offers to everyone. Her excellent academic record includes such honors as Who's Who in American Junior Colleges, the Dean's List, Phi Theta Kappa, PSGA president, and 1978-1979 marshal. Her involvement in campus activities ranging from intramurals to student government make Sarah a vital part of Peace. Her enthusiasm for life and her love of people make her well deserving of the honor of Miss Peace.

Organizations

PSGA

While many girls are still asleep on Tuesday mornings at 9:45, the Student Government room is wide awake. Buzzing, laughing sophomores and freshmen and a very wise Dean of Students begin to settle down to their weekly duty. These people have assigned to them one of the hardest tasks imaginable: to make each girl on the Peace College campus a happy student. Obviously, this task is impossible, for no one is happy all the time! However, the duty of the Peace Student Government Association is to try. PSGA works hard to provide the variety of activities which Peace students are offered. PSGA tries to promote class spirit, carry out student government affairs, provide entertainment of all kinds, and build bonds of love and happiness.

Peace is a learning and growing experience. The Peace Student Christian Association works to provide an atmosphere of unity and fellowship for all those who seek it on campus. There are many opportunities to meet new friends, worship with them, and share fellowship with them. PSCA helps to form bonds of love which last beyond graduation in May. Some of PSCA's functions include the Student-Faculty Picnic, the Little Sister Picnic, and Peanut Week. PSCA also provides special services during the year such as Thanksgiving communion and Holy Week Service before Easter. This year A Moravian Love Feast was celebrated in December.

PSRA

The Peace Student Recreation Association is a unique organization in that, while it certainly promotes physical fitness and recreation, it encourages everyone in the school to participate in the year-round activities that it offers. Athletes and non-athletes alike are invited to come together for a set of tennis, a game of badminton, or even a quiet game of spades. These intramurals serve as one way for students and faculty to relax and share some good times. The Powder Puff Football Game held between the sophomores and freshmen is an annual event.

Honor Court

Just the mention of the words "Honor Court" causes the majority of us to shift in our seats. But when we come to realize that the Honor System is the basic foundation of Peace, we learn to respect its purpose rather than to fear it. Penny Spangler, president of the Honor Court, believes that "when students abuse honor they let down their classmates, administrators, parents, and their Supreme Being." The purpose of Honor Court is not to judge the actions of others, but to understand them. And through this we become more aware of ourselves and of one another.

Resident Assistants

The resident assistants certainly deserve recognition as some of Peace's leaders. From the day that we all arrived as wide-eyed freshmen, our R.A.'s were on hand to reassure us that all this craziness would soon seem like home. Throughout our two years at Peace, the R.A.'s continue to keep us informed of everything that happens on campus. They always seem to know the answers to all our questions and help to keep the lines of communication between administration and students flowing smoothly. They are a great bunch of girls who care a lot about their fellow students. And in turn we love them.

Non-Residents

The non-residents may not live on the Peace campus, but Peace would certainly be at a loss without them. These girls are an integral part of all the activities at Peace, both academic and extracurricular. They deserve a special thanks for the beautiful flowers that they purchase for the chapel every year. They share good times, a lot of laughter, and even an occasional bake sale in the non-resident lounge. The non-residents have a special picnic together at the end of the year.

Those who have had the opportunity to work on a newspaper staff know the various trials and tribulations that come with the job — thinking up and writing stories, working on layouts until the wee hours of the night, thinking up headlines and cutlines — it can be a lot of work!

But it is that sense of accomplishment, when the papers have been distributed and there is time to sit back and go over it, that makes all the effort more than worthwhile. Anyone interested in writing, photography, working on layouts, or cartooning is invited to help with the Peace Times.

Prism Literary Magazine

Peace's annual literary magazine, Prism, represents a kaleidoscope of talent and creativity. Featuring poetry, short stories, essays, and photography, the Prism staff is bound by a love for the art of self-expression. Our goal is to comprehend the power of thought in a paper reflection for the pleasure of others, and, in the attempt to achieve this goal, all interested students are encouraged to participate.

Lotus Peace College Yearbook

Standing: Melanie Brantley, Susan Wobbleton, Carol Hunter, Nan Lynn, Jennie Talley, Donna Wheeler, Vivian Rabon, Sitting: Gaye Griffin, Lynn Davis, Beth Braxton.

The annual publication of Peach College's memory book, The Lotus, is made possible through the dedicated efforts of the yearbook staff. Staff members give of their talents and time to create a book filled with words and pictures reminiscent of the year gone by. Every student is invited to share in the experience of compiling The Lotus.

Our two years together have passed in an instant. Yet even in this short space of time we have shared, learned, and grown together. We have experienced and encouraged each others' special talents. We have learned to depend on each other in ways that will make us smile at the memory for years to come. On those cold winter mornings when we slept through an 8:15, there was always a friend to lend us the class notes. When we endlessly searched through transfer catalogues wondering just what was to become of us after Peace, a roommate was always there to listen. When we broke up with a boyfriend, someone in the dorm always had a new man in mind for us. Now we are a little older and a little wiser, and the self-assurance we have has come from each other. Now we look forward to the future, glad for the time we had together but ready to step ahead as independent young women.

Editors' Note

Many hours, much concentration, dedicated workers, and a lot of love — these are the ingredients that have gone together to create the 1979 edition of the Lotus.

Capturing the spirit of Peace College in words and pictures has been a challenge to the Lotus staff. We have all become aware of the vitality and spirit found in every freshman and sophomore at Peace. The many moods and the many thoughts of every girl at Peace are special. Each girl's unique personality makes the school a little richer. As the yearbook staff we have tried to represent the sides of Peace that lead us on separate paths as well as the common bonds that make us a close-knit student body. For their special help and support in making Lotus 1979 a reality, the yearbook staff expresses its gratitude to Mrs. Janet Wester, Mrs. Mary Jo Cashion, Mr. Eugene Lilley, and our very efficient business managers, Carol Hunter and Beth Braxton.

July, 1978 19" Color TV Picture Survey*

SEE THE SYLVANIA PICTURE THAT BEAT RCA AND ZENITH!

19" diagonal Model CX8172W

Sylvania beat RCA and Zenith. That's right. The Superset has done it again. In a recent independent survey, over a thousand people saw three unidentified 19" diagonal color TV pictures side by side. They were asked to pick the one with the best overall picture. And the people's choice was clear... The Sylvania Superset over Zenith and RCA. We're not the biggest. But a lot of people think Sylvania has the best picture.

How can one show appreciation to a man who is so wholeheartedly dedicated to the school shine through in so many ways. He is recognized by both faculty and students for his unexcelled abilities as a teacher.

His special worship services every Wednesday morning and his Christian leadership are meaningful to everyone at Peace. His honest and loving concern as a friend and counselor are qualities that make him such a special man. His kind words and sincere smiles make everyone's days brighter. As an expression of love and gratitude, we dedicate the 1979 edition of The Lotus to the Reverend George Alexander Thomas.
